OPENEST

SHARE, INVENT, RELAX.

People at work have become more mobile – moving freely throughout the day, no longer tethered to a designated space. As a result, the ratio of individual to group workspaces has shifted in support of more collaboration. Designed for Haworth by Patricia Urquiola, Openest is both playful and poetic, pragmatic and functional. Its combined elements present a visual and tactile softness through the use of curved lines, textured fabrics and finishes, and upholstery stitching to invoke the craftsmanship of residential furniture.

Openest offers approachable comfort that adapts to people's needs. Plume screens made from familiar textiles put the body and mind at ease while Sprig tables accompany seating elements where surfaces are needed. No matter how the space is arranged, Openest provides functional furniture that looks neat and uncluttered, creating a refuge for working or relaxing.
